2007 C-USA Indoor Championships

After starting the day in fifth place, Rice scored 27 points to showcase a finishing kick that no one could match as the Owls won their first Conference USA indoor track and field championship.

Thanks to Rachel Greff’s repeat as conference champion in the pole vault, the Owls were 8.5 points behind UTEP. Callie Wells led a 4-5-6-7 finish in the 3000 to notch 14 points, and the 4x400 of Brittany Washington, Naquanza Alfred, Shakera Reese and Ewing finished fifth to clinch the team title by 4.5 points over the Lady Miners.

Greff was the lone individual champion for the Owls, clearing a season-best 3.70 meters/12-1.5 to win the vault. This was the second time she had competed in the event as a collegian.

Shakera Reese and Ewing finished fifth to provisionally qualify for the NCAA indoor championships. She picked up key points in the field events, winning bronze in the triple jump with a 12.21m/40-0.75 on her final attempt and finished fourth in the high jump (only the second time she had competed in the event as a collegian). Shardee Caesar was eighth in the triple jump at 11.90m/39-0.5. Chandra Ewing raced to silver in the 400 with a personal-best 55.55 and also scored with a sixth place effort in the 60 hurdles. Other points came Lacee Carmon (7th) in the 60 hurdles, and Alfred, who was sixth in the 800. Desarie Walwyn scored in both sprints, taking seventh in the 60 and 200.

2007 C-USA Indoor & Outdoor Champions
2007 C-USA Outdoor Championships

The Rice Owls weathered a stormy start and rode a host of outstanding performances to capture their first Conference USA Outdoor title on the home venue and give the Owls a sweep of the team titles in 2007.

Competition was delayed on the first night when strong storms swept through the Houston area, but Daniels set the tone for the meet to come by coming out the following morning and winning by nearly 30 seconds. Susie Barrows continued her streak of great racing with a bronze medal. Later in the day, the Owls piled up points in the 3000 meters steeplechase as Kate Gorry won the event in an NCAA regional title with a time of 10:42.87 and freshman Nicole Mericle finished fourth.

Chandra Ewing had a lifetime best to win the 400 meter hurdles, Rachel Greff her second straight Conference USA outdoor vaulting title, to go with a pair of indoor crowns. Ewing also picked up fifth-place points in the 100 hurdles.

Funmi Jimoh scored in three individual events, including a second-place finish in the 100 hurdles and the long jump and a tie for fifth in the high jump. Freshman Shakera Reece won bronze in the 100 and was fourth in the 200. Desarie Walwyn set the tone for the meet to come by coming out the following morning and winning by nearly 30 seconds. 2007 C-USA Indoor & Outdoor Champions
2007 Cross Country Recap

What began as a season of hopes became one of dreams as the 2007 Rice women’s cross country team concluded their most successful season in school history by finishing 16th out of 31 teams at the 2007 NCAA Championships in Terre Haute, Ind.

The Owls earned their way to the NCAA meet with a string of impressive performances that saw the team set scoring records and capturing team titles along the way as they vaulted from an unranked unit to as high as seventh in the national polls.

After opening the year with wins in their own invitational and one at Texas A&M, the unheralded runners made an emphatic statement of their intents when they competed against eight ranked teams at the Notre Dame Invitational. With senior Marissa Daniels leading the way, the Owls stunned the field by winning the team title, a result so unexpected that they had already left the Notre Dame campus for the drive to the airport and had to quickly return to pick up their awards.

The Owls won the 21-team meet with 118 points, 21 better than second-place and seventh-ranked Illinois. No. 12 Florida State was third with 141 points, and the Wolverines were fourth with 148. The other ranked teams to fall to Rice were Boston College (No.26), Providence (No.11), North Carolina State (No.16), Baylor (No.22), and the host Irish (No.27). As a result of the performance, they jumped from receiving one vote in the previous poll all the way to seventh in the national polls.

One month later, they reclaimed the top spot in Conference USA that they had won in 2005, with a dominating performance. The Owls finished 3-4-5-6-8 to win their second Conference USA cross country crown in three years and break the league scoring record with 26 points.

As she had season, senior Marissa Daniels led the Rice pack, finishing third overall. Allison Pye beat classmate Becky Wade to the tape to finish third. With their top five finishes, all three Owls earned first team all-conference honors. Three Owls also earned second-team honors for Rice beginning with senior Callie Wells (sixth), sophomore Nicole Mericle (eighth to close out the Rice scoring), and senior Lennie Waite (10th).

Two weeks later, the Owls made school history winning the program’s first NCAA South Central Regional Championship and claiming an automatic bid to the national meet as the Owls scored 54 points at Fayetteville, Ark. Heading into the meet, the Owls ranked second in the region behind host and 10th-ranked Arkansas, but upset the Southeastern Conference champion Razorbacks on their home course.

This time, it was the younger members of the team who led the way as freshman Allison Pye finished sixth, sophomore Nicole Mericle eighth, and freshman Becky Wade 10th. Daniels battled leg cramps but still finished 17th to give the Owls the points they needed to hold of Arkansas.

At the NCAA meet, it was Wade’s turn to lead the team and she responded with a 53rd place finish. Daniels followed in 62nd, while Pye (71st) Mericle (91st) and Brittany Williams (1136th) closed out the scoring for the Owls.

The Owls finished the day with 413 points and were just seven points out of 13th in a tight team finish. Among the teams Rice defeated on Monday are No. 9 Michigan (21st with 462) and all three Big 12 teams to run: Baylor (17th with 427), Texas Tech (18th with 433) and Big 12 champion Colorado (23rd with 479).
